

Anti-bullying week

This week it is National Anti-Bullying Week in Schools. The children will experience a series of different assemblies and class-based activities in which we discuss what bullying is, how we can prevent this from occurring in school, the damage caused by bullying and what children should do if they discover that bullying is taking place. We have recently put up posters around school which explain to the children that bullying is when rude or mean behaviour occurs on several occasions, rather than as a one-off incident. All children will be taking home a document titled 'Anti-bullying Information for Parents' today, which will provide you with additional information on this sensitive subject. Our School Anti-Bullying Policy and Behaviour Policy are available on our website for your perusal.

This week we have a bun sale, wrist band & badge sale, competitions and Friday non-uniform day, all to raise funds for Children in Need.

Safeguarding Incident in BD6

I received a concerning email from Bradford LA about a safeguarding incident that took place outside a different school. A child was approached by a man in a red pick-up type vehicle when making their way home from school on the afternoon of Thursday 10th November 2016 in the BD6 area of Bradford. Although all of our children are collected by trusted adults, I still believe it is important to make parents aware when incidents like this take place.

Service of Remembrance

The children in Titus did the school proud at the Remembrance Service at Heaton Graveyard on Friday. They read out the poem 'Flowers of Eternal Sleep' from memory, laid a wreath of poppies and conducted themselves in a manner which befitted the occasion. The service was well attended and there was representation from various groups, including the police. The event organiser, Margaret Gray, emailed me at the weekend to say "I thought the children were so well behaved and did a brilliant job. Thank you so much for allowing the children to join us. We all enjoyed it." A two minute silence was also impeccably observed in school.

Break up for Christmas holiday at 12:00pm

We are selling buns throughout this week to raise funds for Children in Need. Each bun costs 25p and each child can buy 1 bun per day. We would greatly appreciate any donations of buns or small cakes that could be made by parents throughout this week.

Please drive carefully and park with consideration on the roads outside our school. We have received complaints recently about dangerous driving and parking on Parsons Road and Wilmer Drive.
